The Adrenal Glands and Stress

Adrenal balance is required for the healthy production of cortisol and DHEA, hormones essential for managing stress. Support Adrenals is clinically proven to help balance and support the adrenals by enabling the body's ability to resist both clinical and sub-clinical stress. Support Adrenals' synergistic formula of balanced B-vitamins and supportive co-factors can help increase energy, control blood sugar, reduce inflammation, heal damaged tissue, and decrease inhalant and food sensitivities.
